Exclusion statement

September 2019

Headteacher: Ms T A Kneale CBE

Statement on Exclusion 2019

This statement has been developed in addition to our Behaviour and Anti-bullying policy.

1. Exclusion is used as a last resort, once other sanctions have not been effective.
2. Only the Headteacher has the authority to exclude a child. In her absence, authority is delegated to a team decision by members of the Leadership Team (including Deputy Heads, Assistant headteachers and Pastoral Manager).
3. A decision to exclude will be taken only in response to serious breaches of the school's behaviour policy, and if allowing the pupil to remain on site would harm the education or welfare of the person to be excluded or others.
4. Situations leading to fixed term exclusions include : physical and verbal aggression towards pupils or staff and/or repeated defiance of school rules. This is not an inclusive list and situations will be dealt with on an individual basis.
5. Lunchtime exclusions will count as ½ a school day.
6. Periods of internal exclusion will also be used as part of the school behaviour policy. Internal exclusion will be used following periods of disruptive behaviour in class. It may also be used as an alternative to external exclusion if it is deemed to be the more effective sanction.
7. The decision to permanently exclude a child may be made either for 'one-off' offences such as:
 - Serious actual or threatened violence against another pupil or a member of staff,
 - Sexual abuse or assault,
 - Supplying an illegal drug,
 - Carrying an offensive weapon.
 - or when a series of fixed term exclusions have not remedied the situation.
8. All incidents requiring exclusion will be investigated, parents will be contacted and a letter sent home. Work will be provided for the child wherever possible on the first day of exclusion, but always for subsequent days.

9. Model letters from LA guidance will be used and copies sent to the Local Authority with copies of the Exclusion paperwork.
10. A pupil will not be excluded (fixed term) for more than 45 days in one academic year.
11. Following a period of fixed term exclusion, a reintegration meeting will be arranged with the parents, to discuss how it would be best to proceed with the child/children's reintegration, eg. Instigating a parenting contract. Whilst this meeting would ideally be held on the school site, the school reserve the right to arrange the meeting for another location if it is deemed to be more appropriate.

The local authority will:

- Receive copies of all the papers related to the exclusion.
- Be available to advise the parents and school on current DFE exclusion guidance.
- Consider whether to make temporary provision for the pupil.
- Make sure that the pupil has work supplied by the school while the exclusion process is going on.
- Tell the parents how the meeting will be conducted and what decisions could be made.
- Where appropriate attend the meeting of the governing body in the case of maintained schools and PRU's, and if invited by academies.
- If appropriate make a statement about the exclusion.
- Tell the parents of their rights of appeal to an independent review panel.
- If requested by parents appoint a Special Educational Needs (SEN) expert to attend the independent review panel.

Parents and carers have the right to:

- Play a full part in the partnership between school and home which secures a positive and successful education.
- Receive prompt communication from the head teacher about an exclusion from the school (by the end of the afternoon session).
- Be advised of arrangements for supply, collection and marking of work during the exclusion.
- See any of your child's school curriculum records during the period of exclusion (there may be a cost attached to this).
- Has a right to invite a member of the local authority to any meeting.

Exclusion from school

Information for parents, carers, and guardians

Prepared by the Education, Development and Skills Department
August 2019

The head teacher will:

- Without delay and by the end of the afternoon session, notify parents of the period of the exclusion and the reason for it.
- Without delay provide parents with the following information in writing by delivering it by hand directly to the parents; leaving it at their last known address; or by posting it to this address:
 - the reasons for the exclusion;
 - the period of a fixed term exclusion or, for a permanent exclusion, the fact that it is permanent;
 - parents' right to make representations about the exclusion to the governing body (DFE guidance Sept 2012) and how the pupil may be involved in this;
 - how any representations may be made; and
 - where there is a legal requirement for the governing body to consider the exclusion, that parents have a right to attend a meeting, be represented at this meeting (at their own expense) and to bring a friend.
- That for the first 5 days of an exclusion (or until the start of any alternative provision where this is earlier) parents are legally required to ensure that their child is not present in a public place during school hours without reasonable justification, and that parents may be given a fixed penalty notice or prosecution if they fail to do so.
- Inform parents where a fixed period exclusion has been extended or converted to a permanent exclusion. In such cases the head teacher must write again to parents explaining the reason for the change and provide any additional information.

The discipline committee of the governing body will:

- Be advised if your child is excluded for more than 6 days or permanently, and might miss a public exam.
- Consider reinstatement of an excluded pupil within 15 school days of receiving notice of the exclusion if:
 - the exclusion is permanent;
 - it is a fixed term exclusion which would bring pupil's total number of school days of exclusion to more than 15 in a term; or
 - it would result in a pupil missing a public exam or national curriculum test.
- If requested to do so by parents, the governing body must consider reinstatement of an excluded pupil within 50 days of receiving notice of exclusion if a pupil would be excluded from school for more than 5 school days, but no more than 15, in a single term.
- The governing body must make reasonable endeavours to arrange a meeting for a date and time that is convenient to all parties, but in compliance with relevant statutory time limits. However, its decision will not be invalid simply on the grounds that it was not made within these time limits.
- In the case of a fixed period exclusion which does not bring pupil's total number of days of exclusion to more than 5 in a term, the governing body must consider any representations made by parents, but it cannot direct reinstatement and is not required to arrange a meeting with parents.

- Request that you send any submission to the clerk to the discipline committee 5 days in advance of the meeting to allow distribution to all parties.
- The following parties must be invited to a meeting of the governing body and allowed to make representations:
 - parents
 - the headteacher; and a representative from the local authority (in the case of a maintained school or PRU). Governors of academies may invite a representative from the LA if they wish.
- Notify parents of their decision immediately, in writing and without delay of their decision.
- In the case of a permanent exclusion inform parents of their right to an independent review panel.
